

CALL FOR PANELS AND PAPERS

International Conference
*Connections.
Between the word,
the sound and the image:
A Centenary of Polish-Japanese
Diplomatic Relations*

4-6 December 2019,
Adam Mickiewicz University (AMU),
Poznan, Poland

The Department of Japanese Studies at Adam Mickiewicz University (AMU) invite panel and paper proposals for the International Conference to be held on 4-6 December 2019 at AMU in Poznan, Poland.

The centenary of establishing official relations between Poland and Japan encourages reflection not only on the stability and diversity of these contacts and on mutual fascinations, but also encourages to pay attention to what is so typical of Japanese culture – the integral relationship of word (literature), sound (music) and image (art), their mutual interpenetration and its results.

The conference is addressed mainly to scholars (specialists in Japanese studies, art historians, museum curators, musicologists, teatrologists, specialists in film studies) as well as to artists (painters, sculptors, musicians, actors, directors) creating on the cultural border, especially between Poland and Japan.

CONFERENCE DATA

Language of Presentation: English.

All panel and paper proposals should be submitted by 15th of September 2019 via the link provided below.

Sessions will normally last for 90 minutes with up to three individual papers, which should not exceed 15-20 minutes each.

One person may submit only one paper or panel proposal.

Any requests for specific audio-visual equipment – other than standard computers, projectors etc. – should be specified in your proposal.

The panel proposal may also include the names of chairs or discussants. If these roles are to be taken by conveners, then please enter your own name.

All abstracts and panel proposals should not exceed 400 words (including spaces) and should be in English.

On submission of the proposal, the proposing author (but not the co-authors) will receive an email confirming receipt.
